This Management Bulletin corrects information transmitted in Management Bulletin 00-107 dated May 2000 regarding Provisions 2 and 3.

The following are corrections to question C-4:

C-4) What if I'm on Provision 3 and the number of operating days in my base year is different from subsequent non-base years?

Under Provision 3, no adjustments for changes in the number of operating days are allowed. ~~the base-year meal counts would be multiplied by the ratio of the number of operating days in the current year to the number of operating days in the base year. For example, if the district had 20 operating days during February in the base year and 21 operating days in February of the subsequent year, their claim should reflect a 5 percent increase over the base-year claim for the same month. Conversely, if the operating days in February decrease from 20 in the base year to 19 in the subsequent year, the claim should reflect a 5 percent decrease, or 95 percent of the base-year claim.~~

Reimbursement and commodity assistance are provided at the same level as was provided during the base year. These figures are then increased or decreased, by percentage, for changes in enrollment and inflation on October 31 each non-base year.
